Overview

Brazil's planned 2025 Capacity Reserve Auction (LRCAP) – intended to contract energy storage to meet electricity demand during peak hours by evening out the supply of intermittently-generated renewable energy – could fire the nation's large-scale energy storage market. What is the market potential for energy storage in Brazil?

Daniel Lyrio: TBEA considers that Brazil's market potential is estimated at 5 GWh for the next three years, considering that we have the auction in 2025, with an average market [battery project] value of BRL 1.5 million/kWh, the number to be invested is around BRL 7.5 billion. Which applications should lead the adoption of energy storage in Brazil?

Will Brazil conduct the first energy storage auction?

Brazil is set to conduct the country's first-ever energy storage auction for adding batteries and storage systems to the national power grid.

Will Brazil's first electricity auction drive $450m investment?

Brazil is set to conduct its first auction for adding batteries and storage systems to the national power grid, as reported by Reuters. The auction, to take place in June 2025, will include 300MW energy capacity purchase that could drive an estimated $450m in investments from winning bidders, according to consultants Oliver Wyman.

Why is Brazil launching a battery auction in 2025?

Regarding the launch of the BESS auction in 2025, the Brazilian minister, Alexandre Silveira de Oliveira, said: "The purpose of the battery auction is to boost battery technology in Brazil and try to bring Huawei and other large battery producers, mainly from China and other countries, to be able to bring technology to Brazil."

Can TBEA replicate the energy storage model in Brazil?

TBEA will bring case studies from large energy storage projects installed by the company around the world, showing the potential to replicate the model in Brazil. pv magazine will also look at the variables that can make these projects more, or less competitive.
