

PDEOZE PowerContainer

Swaziland double-glass module factory

Overview

Why should you visit a glassblower factory in Swaziland?

Watch our glassblowers creating wonderful african animal figurines and tableware using 100% recycled glass, from an overhead balcony. Feel the heat of the furnace and understand why we say we are the HOTTEST attraction in Swaziland. Our well stock showroom is attached to the factory and there is a coffee shop offering light meals.

Is Ngwenya Glass a good place to shop in Swaziland?

A place to learn and shop! Ngwenya Glass is definitely a must do in Swaziland, particularly for those traveling from South Africa via the nearby border crossing. We had seen their products displayed at craft markets in South Africa and had long planned to visit. The facility is well sign-posted and easy to find.

Who are Swazi glassblowers?

Started in 1979 by Swedish Aid. They built the factory, imported all the machinery and equipment and employed and trained Swazi's in the age old art of glassblowing. Two of the most talented were sent over to Sweden to be trained by some of the leading glassblowers in the world.

Can you see Swazi glassblowers from a bird's eye view?

From a bird's eye view, visitors can watch the skilled Swazi artisans and glassblowers at work. The viewing platform is not accessible to guests who use a wheelchair. The factory is a shining example of sustainability.

Swaziland double-glass module factory

Watch our glassblowers creating wonderful african animal figurines and tableware using 100% recycled glass, from an overhead balcony. Feel the heat of the furnace and understand why we say we are the HOTTEST attraction in Swaziland. Our well stock showroom is attached to the factory and there is a coffee shop offering light meals.

A place to learn and shop! Ngwenya Glass is definitely a must do in Swaziland, particularly for those traveling from South Africa via the nearby border crossing. We had seen their products displayed at craft markets in South Africa and had long planned to visit. The facility is well sign-posted and easy to find.

Started in 1979 by Swedish Aid. They built the factory, imported all the machinery and equipment and employed and trained Swazi's in the age old art of glassblowing. Two of the most talented were sent over to Sweden to be trained by some of the leading glassblowers in the world.

From a bird's eye view, visitors can watch the skilled Swazi artisans and glassblowers at work. The viewing platform is not accessible to guests who use a wheelchair. The factory is a shining example of sustainability.

The Ngwenya Glass Complex, located near the Ngwenya border post, comprises of the famous Ngwenya Glass factory and selection of other artisan outlets. The glass blowing factory is ...

Our well stock showroom is attached to the factory and there is a coffee shop offering light meals. Beer and wine also available. In our well established gardens there is an array of well stocked ...

Established with a vision of environmental stewardship, the Ngwenya Glass Factory has made a name for itself by producing exquisite glassware crafted entirely from recycled glass. Much of the recycled ...

Ngwenya Glass Eswatini P.O.Box 45 Motshane Swaziland/Eswatini H104 +268 2442 4053
+268 2442 4142 +268 2442 4151 Contact Us Forgot password

The factory showcases a variety of glass items, ranging from decorative pieces to everyday glassware, available for purchase. This destination not only highlights the artistry involved in glass production but also promotes ...

While Ngwenya Glass Factory has been a success story since 1987, it is also a friend of the environment, with all glass pieces made from recycled glass collected throughout Swaziland.

The Ngwenya Glass Factory, nestled in the heart of Eswatini (formerly Swaziland), stands as a unique testament to the power of combining artistic vision with sustainable practices.

Called Ngwenya (the Swazi name for crocodile) it has at its summit the oldest mine in the world and at its base is this small bustling glass factory where unique glass products are handmade ...

This factory has been around since 1987, and is known for its beautiful, handcrafted glassware made entirely from 100% recycled glass. Here, coke bottles, beer bottles, jars, and broken glassware are turned into fabulous ...

A glassblowing factory called Swazi Glass Craft (trading as Ngwenya Glass) was set up as a Swedish Aid Project. The Swedes imported all the machinery and equipment, built the original ...

This factory has been around since 1987, and is known for its beautiful, handcrafted glassware made entirely from 100% recycled glass. Here, coke bottles, beer bottles, jars, and broken ...

Established with a vision of environmental stewardship, the Ngwenya Glass Factory has made a name for itself by producing exquisite glassware crafted entirely from ...

The factory showcases a variety of glass items, ranging from decorative pieces to everyday glassware, available for purchase. This destination not only highlights the artistry involved in ...

A glassblowing factory called Swazi Glass Craft (trading as Ngwenya Glass) was set up as a Swedish Aid Project. The Swedes imported all the machinery and equipment, built the original factory, and employed and trained ...

Our well stock showroom is attached to the factory and there is a coffee shop offering light meals. Beer and wine also available. In our well established gardens there is an array of well stocked craft shops selling Swazi Fair ...

Called Ngwenya (the Swazi name for crocodile) it has at its summit the oldest mine in the world and at its base is this small bustling glass factory where unique glass products are handmade from recycled glass.

Contact Us

For catalog requests, pricing, or partnerships, please visit:
<https://pdeozepv.pl>